SEVEN DAY SONNET Announces First $500 ‘Seven Days of Christmas’ Winner, Algeny Walker from Muskegon, MI!

SEVEN DAY SONNET has chosen the first winner of the $500 ‘Seven Days of Christmas’ contest! Last week, prize winner Algeny Walker, whose heart-warming story of choosing to spend her “hopeful” winnings on her brother who suffers from severe autism, proved a unanimous winner amongst the band.

“We received a number of very moving emails this week from so many of our fans and want to thank everyone who wrote in for the contest,” states guitarist Rick Tauber. “We chose Algeny Walker as the winner for week as her story exemplifies what the spirit of the holiday season is all about. Since losing her father, Algeny has played a major role in raising her younger brother with autism, and wanted nothing more than make this Christmas special for him.”

“I couldn't be more excited about winning last Friday's ‘Seven Days of Christmas’ giveaway and I can't thank SEVEN DAY SONNET enough for choosing me,” adds winner Algeny Walker. “This really means a lot and I can't wait to spoil my little brother this year for Christmas. What [the band] is doing is very thoughtful and the fact that they're so willing to help their fans makes me love and respect them even more than I already did.”

Every Friday from now until Christmas, 7DS will be giving away $500 to one of their fans. To enter, all you have to do is email sevendaysonnetmusic@gmail.com and tell 7DS what you will do with the money and what radio station or media outlet you heard about this promotion from. One person will be picked every Friday by the radio station and us to receive $500! Please only one entry per person or household.
