SEVEN DAY SONNET Announces Second $500 ‘Seven Days of Christmas’ Winners, Mr. Aslan Miller of Modesto, CA!

Last Friday’s Winner to be Announced Soon!

SEVEN DAY SONNET has chosen the second winner of the $500 ‘Seven Days of Christmas’ contest! Last week, prize winner Aslan Miller was chosen based on his touching story of raising four children on a budget. This past Friday’s winner was also chosen and we will hear a personal testimony from her soon!

“Thank you so much for choosing my family to win the $500,” states last week’s winner Aslan Miller. “This means so much to me. Living paycheck to paycheck means no money for extras, but now I will have the money to give my babies a great, fun Christmas. Again, I cannot explain how excited and grateful I truly am. Thank you.”

Every Friday from now until Christmas, 7DS will be giving away $500 to one of their fans. To enter, all you have to do is email sevendaysonnetmusic@gmail.com and tell 7DS what you will do with the money and what radio station or media outlet you heard about this promotion from. One person will be picked every Friday by the radio station and us to receive $500! Please only one entry per person or household.

The band will enter Groovmaster Studios in Chicago, IL in January with the Johnny K Camp to complete work on their debut full-length, self-titled album set to be unleashed on the world in April 2012 with Big Time Records. Also, the band has nearly penned a new contract with a new management company and Big Time Records is in talks to become an imprint for a larger label, both poising SEVEN DAY SONNET for greater success. Big Time Records has kept SEVEN DAY SONNET on the MediaBase charts, ranging between Top 75 and Top 30 non-stop for over 9 months.

Refusing to slow down over the past year, SEVEN DAY SONNET has gone from playing back alley clubs to expanding practically overnight-- touring with bands like Saliva, Sevendust, Rev Theory, Nonpoint and Adelitas Way and recording with Grammy Award-winning producer Sylvia Massy (Tool, System of a Down) and Grammy-nominated producer Johnny K.

SEVEN DAY SONNET is currently finishing up their tour with Sevendust and Eye Empire. See below for all remaining tour dates.
