NOT TONIGHT JOSEPHINE Announces 'The Horizon Strikes Back' Tour Dates – More Dates TBA

Tampa, FL natives NOT TONIGHT JOSEPHINE are pleased to announce their upcoming 'The Horizon Strikes Back' tour. The band will kick off the tour in Chicago, IL on June 22nd, and will continue to tour the eastern portion of the US through July 13th when the tour comes to an end in West Plains, MO. See below for all new tour dates, and make sure to stay tuned for more dates being added soon.

The press has been saying great things about NOT TONIGHT JOSEPHINE and their new album, All On The Horizon! Las Vegas publication Vegas Seven states, "Minus major label support, [Not Tonight] Josephine went ahead and released Horizon on its own, a testament to the band's determination." TheNewReview.net called All On The Horizon, "...a solid rock album", and AlternativeAddiction.com describes the band as "...extremely tight both live and recorded and they write great songs." As a testimony to their prowess as an independent, DIY machine, Lexington Music Press stated, "The majority of big name rock bands these days don't do it for me, so this independent one must be doing something right."

NOT TONIGHT JOSEPHINE recently released their new album, All On The Horizon, on April 26th. All On The Horizon is produced by Brett Hestla (Creed, Dark New Day, Framing Hanley), and is the band's follow up to their 2009 EP, This Orphan Heart. The album art is illustrated by Evan Leake at Pale Bird Design Studio. Leake is known for his artwork for bands such as Gym Class Heroes, The Academy Is, Sky Eats Airplane, TRAPT, and more. Fans can purchase the album now at Amazon and iTunes, as well as many other online carriers now!
