

Buster Odeholm, Marcus Hultqvist, Kristoffer Nilsson, Marcus Johansson, Stefan Bengtsson

Humanity's Last Breath was formed in 2009 when drummer Buster Odeholm and guitarist Kristoffer Nilsson got together and wrote some deathcore songs. They later recruited bassist Stefan Bengtsson and vocalist Marcus Hultqvist from their old bands Justice Shall Prevail and Dissimulate.

The following year they released their first EP as a band, Reanimated by Hate, which was received well and got 8/10 by the Swedish rock magazine Close-Up.

In the beginning of 2011 the band released their second EP, Structures Collapse, and recruited Marcus Johansson as their second guitarist. This time around the music wasn't as much deathcore as it were a blend of different styles of metal like death metal and djent.

During the summer Humanity's Last Breath got to play at Sweden's biggest metal festival Metaltown together with bands like Meshuggah and Bring me the Horizon.
